To

All jute mills

It has been noticed during joint inspections being carried out by Inspecting officials of this office and DQA during the last few days that often the crane or other related equipment required for the inspection process are out of order. As a result the inspection could not be carried out in such mills on the scheduled dates. This is causing uncalled for loss of precious man hours and expenses incurred in travelling.

All jute mills are therefore advised to ensure that the cranes and other equipment are in order before submitting challans for Inspection to DQA.
